Paedical. Chronic Dysentery.

Mr. James Brannan, Second avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "For two years I have been constantly troubled with a chronic diarrhea, or dysentery, having had, on an average, from twenty to twenty-five passages every twenty-four hours, and every one bloody. I had thoroughly tried all the prominent physicians in Pittsburgh, was twice in the West Penn Hospital, the first time thirteen weeks, and though I left it much better, yet in five days I was as bad as ever. I then tried two other great doctors in this city, and one of them finally assured me I was not long for this world, and advised me to write to my friends about it. I next went to Dr. Hartman, without the least confidence that he could do anything for me. He examined me, smiled, and said, he could stop the bloody discharges in less than two weeks, which he did with PERUNA, and I have now been entirely well for several weeks, and never felt better in my lift, though I am still taking his PERUNA. I will take it whenever I need medicine.

Mr. Patrick Burns, Pittsburgh, writes:

"I have suffered intensely from piles and chronic diarrhea. I was treated by five of the best physicians and surgeons in the city of Pittsburgh, and with all grew constantly worse. Finally three of them said my only hope was an operation. This frightened me, and I went immediately to Dr. Hartman, who has entirely cured me with PERUNA. I have been at work now for three months, and never in my life felt better. Call and see me at corner of Twenty-seventh and Mulberry streets, Twelfith ward, Pittsburgh."

Mr. Patrick Cunningham. S. S. near Sidneg street, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "For five years I have suffered inexpressibly from Internal and external piles. I have tried the best physicians of Pittsburgh and Allegheny without relief. I went to Dr. Hartman, who cured me without detention from work with PE. acuxa."

Mr. Editor:

Sin:—If you aint too pertickeler as to who sends you now and then a word, and will open your ear to a word or two from a plain man, I'm after a thinkin that it mought be of interest to your reders to have some idea of the teelins of our mounting counties and of the pears little county of Boone in pertickeler. And right here I wish to say that as for a line air land to look at and as for a mighty ornary land to live on Boone county is the place. Not that the county wasn't once all she orter be, for like the bad boy who licked his pap, she was a powerful pretty county when ashe was an infant. But now she's growed up, high water and high taxes has played the very devil with her.

That was never no more lovely bit of mountain scenery in all the world than her some twenty years ago. The mains of heaven never kissed lands more fraitful "Many of the words that are now re

Thar was enough far man and fur child and fur beast and the taxes was light. And the free air of heaving laugued in echo to the happy heart throos of her people! But things is mightily changed now, Mr. Editer! The fields and farms that oust brought forth great crops of corn and wheat and gave sweet grass to the calves and lambs is pale and valler, and thar ain't no calves and lambs to caper upon 'em. The waters have washed away much of the fatness of them bottoms and the tax-gatherr has taxed the coms and the tax-gatherer has taxed the tine and the sheep till the cows have dinost give up a-calving and the sheep lrap their lambkins afore their time. The lands don't bring forth as they used to do and the farmer has to work earlier and later than his father did and then don't get the same return in crops.

COMERT THE ASSESSOR.

And yet, spite of these hard facts, the Assessor comes round as ever comes the nippin snows and frosts of winter, and puts up the values of the lands a leetle higher and old Jackson sucks a leetle more of the life juice out of the people, and the farmer grows a leetle poorer. Says I to one of the boys, "Does your farm grow more than it used to?" "No," says he, "n'tis makin me pav just double in taxes to what my father did when the Republicans had the State." "Kin Windy Wilson help you get the taxes any lower," says I, "with daddy Jackson astraddle of his back, howsever he may promise ter doi I?" "No," says he, "the Dimicratic party has been too long a thrust in' of us to the wall for to stop that sudden; besides Windy said up at Parkersburg that daddy Jackson was right. But," says, he, "with it allow put Maxwell in, and head off these Dimicratic varmints." "Aint you put that he Dimicrats have been a doing all this?" "No," says he, "and head off these Dimicratic varmints." "Aint you put that he Dimicrat all my life, just so sartin will I never vote for a Dimicratian, barrin the politicks of the county, for that I vote for the best man."

And Daddy Jackson will be lab! in a political grave with him. And I reckon the two of them will be put in the same collistic teacher and they will have reckon the two of them will be put in the same coffin together, and they will have their arms around each other's necks! And the people of Boone will preach them the likeliest inneral that ever two political corpses had! And this feelin' about it the need of a putting to this a-raising of lether taxes is powerful strong throughout all this end of the State. Men has quit all smilling! 'Drag,' for instance, was a thieves' word for carriage, and 'dragsmen' the particular variety of thieves who follow carriages to cut away the lugrage from the rack behind. But 'drag' is good English now for a private coach. 'Kidnap' was thieves' slang for child-stealing; that is 'nab a kid.' 'Tie,' for cravat, was as much the slang of low life as 'choker' is now.
